Legal Framework

The Public Utilities Commission (PUC) is authorized under the Public Utilities Commission Act (No. 39 of 1999) to serve as the economic regulator for the electricity, water and telecommunications sectors in Belize.

The primary duty of the PUC is to ensure that the services rendered by public utility providers in all three sectors are satisfactory and that the charges imposed in respect of those services are reasonable. The PUC has the power to determine and prescribe rates that may be charged in respect of utility services and the standards which must be maintained in relation to such services. In addition, the PUC is responsible for the award of licenses and for monitoring and enforcing compliance with license conditions.

Sector specific legislation provides the legal framework for the PUC to carry out its duties and functions in a particular utility sector, as obtains in the regulation of the electricity sector, the Electricity Act (No. 13 of 1992), (the “Act”), as amended by Electricity (Amendment) Act 2007 (No. 12 of 2007) and Electricity (Amendment) Act 2011 (No. 4 of 2011) and the Electricity (Tariffs, Fees and Charges) Byelaws (Statutory Instrument No. 145 of 2005; the “Byelaws”), as amended by Statutory Instrument No. 116 of 2009 and Statutory Instrument No. 21 of 2012. The Byelaws govern the tariffs, rates, charges and fees for the transmission and supply of electricity and for existing and new services to be charged by a licensee to consumers in Belize, and the mechanisms, formulas, and procedures whereby such tariffs, rates, charges and fees shall be calculated and determined for all purposes. They also govern the quality of service standards (service reliability) for existing and new services at any time provided or to be provided by a licensee, and the mechanisms, formulas and procedures whereby such services shall be calculated and determined for all purposes. Further, the Byelaws reference the methodology used for Review Proceedings.

Review of 2017 Annual Review Proceeding (ARP) Final Decision

The review of the 2017 ARP Final Decision for the Annual Tariff Period (ATP) July 1, 2017, to June 30, 2018, commenced on December 8, 2017, upon the submission made by Belize Electricity Limited (BEL) to the PUC requesting that no amendments be made to the Mean Electricity Rate and tariffs for the period January 1, 2018, to June 30, 2018, pursuant to Section 33(2) of the ELECTRICITY (TARIFFS, FEES AND CHARGES) BYELAWS, SI 145 of 2005 as amended by SI 116 of 2009.

Section 33 (2) of the ELECTRICITY (TARIFFS, FEES AND CHARGES) BYELAWS provides for adjustments to be made to the mean electricity rate and tariffs approved in the relevant ARP Final Decision for the period January 1 to June 30 of the relevant Annual Tariff Period (ATP), being July 1, 2017, to June 30, 2018, in this instance. Such adjustments are allowed for any material differences between the Reference Cost of Power and the Actual Cost of Power.
